19. Primary external roof material: Asphalt Roof / Composition Roof
20. Special features: Porch, Dormers, Decorative Shingles, Flared Eaves, Chimney, Fence
21. General architectural description:
This 1½-story Dutch Colonial Revival style dwelling is supported by a sandstone foundation, and its exterior walls are clad with painted green horizontal wood siding with 1" by 4" corner boards. Painted green square-cut wood shingles appear in the upper gambrel ends. The gambrel roof is steeply-pitched, with a large intersecting gambrel on the south-facing roof slope. A large hipped-roof dormer, with two 1/1 double-hung sash windows, is located on the north-facing roof slope. The roof is finished with green asphalt composition shingles, and the eaves are flared with painted cream white wood trim. A distinctive gable ornament adorns the façade's upper gambrel end, while a tall red brick fireplace chimney, with a corbelled cap, is located near the front end of the south elevation. A canted bay, with three 1/1 double-hung sash windows, forms the southern 2/3s of the façade, facing toward Aspen Street on the east elevation. Other windows are primarily 1/1 double-hung sash with painted dark green wood frames and painted cream white wood surrounds. A painted green wood-paneled door, with one upper sash light, enters the north end of the façade from a 4-step porch which is recessed under the home's northeast corner. The porch features a tongue-in-groove wood floor, paired painted white Tuscan columns, a painted white square incised column, and a bead board ceiling. The north end of the porch bays out, is enclosed by an open wood railing, and is covered by a bracketed hipped porch roof extension. A painted green wood-paneled door, with one upper sash light, enters the house from within a glassed-in rear porch on the west elevation.
22. Architectural style: Dutch Colonial Revival

23. Landscape or special setting features:

This well-maintained property is located at the southwest corner of Aspen Street and Galena Avenue. A small planted grass front yard and narrow side yards are enclosed by a picket fence. The lawn is nicely landscaped with native plants and shrubs.

24. Associated buildings, features or objects:

Barn/Shed (THAS #55)

A barn/garage (THAS #55) is located near the rear of the property. It is a wood frame cross-gabled structure, with a wood floor and board and batten exterior walls. The walls are covered with white paint which is badly faded. The cross gable roof is covered with metal roofing material laid over 1x wood decking and 2x wood rafters. Two painted white rollaway garage doors open toward Galena on the north elevation.

IV. ARCHITECTURAL HISTORY

25. Date of construction:      Estimate:                      Actual:      1905
 Source of information:      Telluride Daily Journal, April 25, 1905, p. 3; Sanborn Insurance maps; San Miguel County Assessor records; Simmons, Laurie and Christine Whitacre, Historic Building Inventory Record, May 1986.
26. Architect:                      Lafe Felton
 Source of information:      Telluride Daily Journal, April 25, 1905, p. 3
27. Builder:                         Lafe Felton
 Source of information:      Telluride Daily Journal, April 25, 1905, p. 3
28. Original owner:                William E. Wheeler
 Source of information:      Telluride Daily Journal, April 25, 1905, p. 3

29. Construction history:

This house was built in 1905 as a residence for William E. and Antoinette Wheeler. The Telluride Daily Journal reported on the home's construction on at least four occasions during the spring and early summer of 1905. On April 25, 1905, the Journal reported:

Lafe Felton has the contract for building W. E. Wheeler's residence at the corner of North Aspen street and West Galena avenue, and has part of the material ordered at this time. The small dwelling on the lot has been purchased by John H. Adams and will be moved out of the way soon.

A subsequent article reveals that the small earlier house was moved to an unknown location by John Ruggles, a Telluride contractor. Then on June 29, 1905, the Journal reported:

The new residence of banker Wheeler has progressed far enough to show that its architecture makes it one of the most handsome and tasty little cottages in town.

San Miguel County Assessor records confirm that this house was built in 1905, while Sanborn Insurance maps provide corroborating evidence that the house was built between 1904 and 1908. Research efforts to uncover further information about Lafe Felton as a builder were unsuccessful.

32. Intermediate use(s):           Domestic / Single Dwelling
33. Current use(s):                   Domestic / Single Dwelling
34. Site type(s):                      Single Family Residence

35. Historical background:

The West Telluride Addition was platted in 1891, and residential development in the neighborhood began to occur that same year. Initial development, though, concentrated along W. Colorado Avenue, and W. Columbia Avenue, as well as on N. Oak Street. This area along Aspen Street for the most part developed during the first decade of the twentieth century. This house was built in 1905 as a residence for William E. Wheeler, a Telluride banker, and his wife Antoinette Wheeler. According to U. S. census records, William E. Wheeler was born in Michigan in August 1858, while Antoinette (maiden name unknown) was born in Iowa in August 1875. They were married in 1899 or 1900, and lived previously for a time at 541 W. Colorado Avenue before moving into this house. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are not listed as Telluride residents in the 1920 or 1930 census records. Biographical information regarding other families and individuals who lived here during the early part of twentieth century has not been uncovered. Trent and Janice Cowart are the current owners. They purchased the property in July of 1975 according to the San Miguel County Residential Property Appraisal Record for this parcel.
